Concurrent Workshops will feature presentations from national experts on the issues of recruitment, selection, training and retention that will inform and engage participants on evidenced-based interventions to address these issues. Interactive workshops will provide concrete tools and the latest knowledge that participants can use back at their own agencies.

Scaling the Summit is more than just an opportunity to learn – it is a chance for participants, with their team if possible, to engage in action planning and to take the knowledge and skills learned at the event back to their own offices. During the R.A.P. sessions, trained facilitators will guide participants in meaningful action planning to help them address their own recruitment, selection, and retention issues and devise plans to address them. We recognize that not all participants will be attending with teams, so these participants will have the opportunity to work with colleagues from other agencies or attend a Concurrent Workshop.

Together, we will Scale the Summit.
